Dear Mr. Wessling,

Congratulations! On behalf of Preservation Massachusetts, I am honored to inform you that the New England Conservatory Exterior Restoration project has been selected to receive a Paul E. Tsongas Award at our Preservation Awards Dinner on Wednesday, May 4 at the Fairmont Copley Plaza in Boston.

This year's awards set out to recognize and honor Massachusetts colleges, universities and preparatory schools that have utilized and embraced preservation into their educational identity in a variety of ways. Whether through master planning, stewardship or sustainable restoration, the projects at these colleges utilize their historic resources for the benefit of future generations of students. This year's Tsongas Award recipients, such as the New England Conservatory, truly demonstrate the versatility, viability and importance of preservation at our higher educational institutions.

You and your fellow award recipients will be honored at Preservation Massachusetts' Preservation Awards Dinner on May 4, 2010 at the Fairmont Copley Plaza in Boston. This event is our largest fundraiser of the year and is continually considered the premier preservation event of the year. Our annual attendance of approximately 400 draws widely from the preservation, architecture, construction, development and business communities. We certainly look forward to honoring you and the New England Conservatory's Exterior Restoration project that evening. Enclosed you will find information on event ticket and table sales.

The Award Dinner Program will be a video showcasing all of the awarded projects, utilizing the images provided in your nomination. After the video, three designated representatives from your school and project team will receive your award on stage. We regret that due to the number of honorees, there will not be time for remarks. We also ask for your assistance in providing us with a few items, detailed on the enclosed document.

The Exterior Restoration project showcases the incredible work and dedication of your firm and serves as a model for other Massachusetts colleges and universities to emulate. Once again, on behalf of Preservation Massachusetts and all who are involved with preserving the historic fabric of our Commonwealth, congratulations on receiving a 2011 Paul E. Tsongas Award.

Sincerely,

James W. Igoe
President
